

Cascade Clamps

Cascade Clamps - Founded in Portland, Oregon in the year 1943, the Cascade Manufacturing Company started as a small machine store employing only four individuals. Overall sales for that initial year totaled $60,000. The first recorded sales revenues involved the machining and assembly of stainless-steel pipe fittings, valves and other parts. Through 5 years of operation, the business had stretched to 40 employees and their yearly sales volume had risen to three hundred thirty thousand dollars. Today, Cascade is amongst the leading international makers within the material handling trade.

Design and production of the company's initial hydraulic cylinder allowed this new business to aggressively pursue new business possibilities. All through the last 60 years, the trade of material handling has developed into a really sophisticated area with Cascade proudly playing a part in its growth. Cascade at present continues to develop as the best provider of forklift attachments and numerous associated products. The business feels confident in their skill so as to continue to lead the way within the business by understanding customer's requirements in the future and remaining aggressive in the world market.

In the 1950's, Cascade began designing, making and selling hydraulic attachments. Manufacturing was completed in the year 1956 on a new office in order to house all the plant and office operations in Portland, Oregon at the company's current center of operations. Following fifteen years of business, total employees reached 180 employees and sales had reached nearly two million three hundred thousand dollars.

In the year 1959 in Springfield, San Diego a second production facility was built. The year 1960 marked Cascade's initial move into the international world of the material handling industry when the company established interest in Australia, the Netherlands and England.

The company changed its name to Cascade Corporation in 1964. In the year 1965, Cascade went public with a preliminary offering of two hundred thousand shares of common stock. The business has expanded its production plants throughout the U.S. with areas in Springfield, San Diego, Warner Robins, Georgia, Portland, Oregon. Cascade merchandise are fabricated internationally because of a lot of subsidiary operations. In 1994, a new plant was accomplished in Almere, the Netherlands which is Cascade's European command center. This plant is built to be the essential customer service centre.

Continuing to grow, Cascade expanded their product offering further in 1996 and the year 1997 with the remarkable acquisition of five firms, along with the global best in blades, the Kenhar Corporation.